Request for Reconsideration of Patent Term Adjustment, 37 CFR 1.705

The patentee hereby requests reconsideration, under 35 USC 154(d), of the Determination of Patent Term Adjustment (PTA) made by the Director as indicated on the Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 USC 154(b) mailed 11/16/2011, and the Patent Term Extension History record shown in the USPTO PAIR database, copies of which are attached hereto.

The application was filed on 10/29/1999. Except to the extent discussed below patent term extension is calculated under 37 CFR 1.701.

The Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 USC 154(b) mailed 11/16/2011 shows an adjustment of 465 days.

I. Statement of Facts and Calculation

A. Interference Delay

The application was involved in an interference and under suspension three times for consideration of interference. All of these days are eligible for patent term extension. 37 CFR 1.701(a)(1) and (c)(1).

Interference was declared on 02/07/2011 and determined on 08/29/2011. The office correctly calculates 204 days. 37 CFR 1.701(c)(1)(i).

The first suspension, from 08-08-2001 to 04/24/2002 is incorrectly omitted in the PAIR record. The applicant calculates 260 days. 37 CFR 701(c)(1)(ii).

The second suspension, for the period 07/01/2004 until 03/18/2005 is correctly calculated by the USPTO at 261 days, 37 CFR 701(c)(1)(ii).

The third suspension, mailed 11/01/2006, lasted until the declaration of interference on 02/07/2011. The office calculation incorrectly omits 1560 days. 37 CFR 701(c)(1)(ii).

B. Appeal Delay

The application was also under appeal to the Board of Interferences. The date of the relevant notice of appeal was 01/22/2004. The appeal brief on 04-09-2004. The appeal was decided in the applicant's favor when the examiner conceded the appeal and again suspended prosecution on 07/01/2004. The Office does not count this as a decision by the Board in favor of the applicant on the appeal. This is error for the reasons given below. The number of days improperly omitted pursuant to 37 CFR 1.701(a)(3) and (c)(3) is 162 days.

Total USPTO delay 2447 days

C. Applicant Diligence

The applicant does not believe that it has acted without due diligence within the meaning of former 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(3)(C), except for extensions of time taken. The allowed claims 22-32 and 34 were presented in a preliminary amendment filed with the application, and were not further amended in prosecution. Extensions of time were required for the response filed on 06/03/2003 (74 days), the notice of appeal filed on 1-22-2004 (65 days) and the appeal brief filed on 04/09/2004 (19 days). The RCE and response filed on 6/23/2003 resulted in a withdrawal of the previously imposed final rejection. Taking this time as lacking diligence the applicant submits that the total applicant delay is 158 days.

USPTO delay minus Applicant delay: 2289 days

Maximum Extension

The extension is subject to a limit of 5 years. Former 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(4). The earliest priority application for this application is application 08/246320, filed 5/19/1994. The normal expiration date for the patent therefore would be 5/19/2014. The maximum period of extension is 5 years. In this case applicant calculates the five years as 1827 days. Since the total of USPTO delay minus applicant delay exceeds 5 years the period of adjustment is limited to 1827 days.

II. Reasons why the Application is Entitled to Appeal Delay Extension.

Where an agency is charged by statute with deciding an issue which has been presented on appeal for decision, the agency cannot impose rules that remove jurisdiction to decide the appeal. Union Pacific Railroad Co. v. Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, _____ US ____, 130 S.Ct. 584 (2009). Federal courts have recognized the general applicability of this case to other agencies. See, Adkison v. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, 592 F. 3d 1050 (9th Cir. 2010); Marin-Rodriguez v Holder, 612 F.3d 591 (7th Cir. 2011); Pruidze v Holder, 632 F.3d 234 (6th Cir. 2011); Luna v. Holder, case Nos. 07-3796-ag, 08-4840-ag (2nd Circuit 2011); Ortega-Marroquin v. Holder; Case No: 10-1846 (8th Cir. 2011); Auburn Regional Medical Center v. Sebelius, 686 F. Supp. 2d 55 (USDC DC, 2010).

The USPTO is an agency to which general principles of administrative law apply. Dickinson v Zurko, 527 U.S. 150 (1999). Therefore the appeal rules of the USPTO, too, must comply with the Union Pacific decision.

35 USC §134(a) states:

An applicant for a patent, any of whose claims has been twice rejected, may appeal from the decision of the primary examiner to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, having once paid the fee for such appeal.

35 USC 134(a) provides applicants with a right to appeal upon final or second action to the BPIA. It does not give the Office authority to remove from Board jurisdiction any matter presented by the applicant in the appeal. The Notice of Appeal is the jurisdiction conferring event, and the Applicant's Brief completes the steps required of the applicant to obtain a decision on the appeal. Since the requirements for Board's jurisdiction over an appeal are set by Congress in §134(a), neither the Director nor the Board of Patent Appeals and Interference can contract the Board's jurisdiction to decide cases by declaring the Board's "jurisdiction" does not begin until it receives an Examiner's Answer (as is apparently the intent of 37 CFR §41.35). Under Union Pacific the Board's responsibility to issue a decision on an appeal begins with the Notice of Appeal.

The Office allows Examiner's to withdraw grounds of rejection after an appeal brief has been filed. It has the discretion to do this only to the extent the examiner is delegated authority to decide the appeal in favor of the applicant. The examiner did so here. His decision is a final decision of the Board in favor of the applicant for purposes of 37 CFR 1.704(e).

Application No. 09/427291 Page 5 Request for Reconsideration of PTA Attorney Docket No. S63.2N-4944-US04

III. Conclusion

For the reasons given above the applicant submits that the correct amount of patent term adjustment should be 1827 days.

Respectfully submitted,
